DESCRIPTION

Tripod stool by Pierre Jeanneret.

This stool stands out for its elegant and functional design. The tapered tripod legs add a touch of finesse to the overall look. The circular, slightly flared seats are joined with mortise and tenon joints, ensuring robustness and durability. Made entirely of solid ash wood, the stool showcases the natural beauty of the wood.

Provenance: Model created for the "Les Gadins" residence in Courchevel, France, circa 1950.
