DESCRIPTION

Pair of Flash table lamps, designed by Joe Colombo for Oluce in the 1960s, reissued in a glass version in the 1990s as a tribute to the visionary designer, who passed away in 1971.

The original 1960s model was entirely crafted from metal, reflecting the futuristic aesthetic that defined Joe Colombo's work. The 1990s version, however, features elegant Murano blue glass paired with a iridescent metal base, striking a perfect balance between modern design and traditional craftsmanship.

These lamps use E27 light bulbs.

In exceptional condition: a vintage pair, never used, sold with their original boxes. A rare and highly collectible set that will captivate Italian design aficionados and collectors alike.

Manufacturer: Oluce, circa 1990
