DESCRIPTION

Rectangular dining table with stretcher base in solid elm, selected for the Les Arcs ski resort.

Less commonly found in this wood, the elm version is distinguished by its rich grain and warm tone, enhancing the presence of the piece. Its simple and robust construction reflects the functional approach developed for alpine interiors.

Passionate about the mountains, Charlotte Perriand worked for over 20 years (1967-1989) on the design and furnishing of the Les Arcs resort in the French Alps.
