DESCRIPTION

Set of four Méribel chairs designed by Charlotte Perriand around 1955 for the Méribel ski resort, including her own chalet.

This version, crafted in black-stained ash with a woven straw seat, was later developed for the furnishing of Les Arcs 1600, particularly for the La Cascade residence. Characterized by its round log legs and sturdy construction, it was conceived to meet the practical demands of mountain interiors while reflecting Charlotte Perriand's enduring commitment to functional design.

Manufacturer: Steph Simon, circa 1965.
