DESCRIPTION

Pair of bookcases dating from the 1950s, by Didier Rozaffy for the French manufacturing company Oscar, known for its modular bookcases and furniture.

During this period, Oscar furniture was innovative, characterized by its adaptability, with elements capable of dividing, transforming, and arranging in different ways. The company received the silver medal at the 10th Milan Triennial in 1953 and was renowned for its quality.

The set, made of mahogany veneer, consists of three levels, accommodating wooden doors, a drop-down bar, and interchangeable black and white glass doors.

Manufacturer : Meubles Oscar, circa 1955.

Each cabinet measures 30 inches wide.
